

If it's true that the right environment can spark ideas and foster creative thinking, you've quite possibly found the perfect place. At the Sanderling you'll find everything you need for business meetings. State-of-the-art AV equipment. Spacious meeting rooms. Casual break-out areas. And, of course, the kind of service that you'd expect at one of the country's leading resorts.

the perfect place...

to come together.

The Sanderling's freestanding Conference Center offers IACC-certified facilities. While just steps away from the resort's amenities, it provides total privacy. The beautifully appointed Boardroom accommodates up to 16 persons. The Swan and Heron Rooms can be set up separately or combined to host groups from 10 to 100 in size.

Meeting rooms are furnished with ergonomically designed chairs, hard-surface writing tables, adjustable lighting, individual climate controls, and audiovisual and sound systems. Our Executive Suite offers private quarters for meeting planners and group executives, and provides an intimate setting for smaller meetings and receptions.

When it's time for recess, groups at The Sanderling enjoy continuous coffee break service in the foyer. The deck adjoining the Swan and Heron Rooms can be set up for eye-opening breakfasts and receptions. Our catering and banquet staff provides superb food and beverage service with menus tailored to the needs of your group. We also offer a number of popular themed events, and, of course, we'll be pleased to customize a special event.

~ what to do, what to do ~

When your meeting adjourns, there is much to do at The Sanderling. Guests have access to both an outdoor and indoor pool. Tennis courts are a few steps away from the Conference Center. There is golf at the acclaimed Currituck Club. There are historic sites to visit and shops to check out in the nearby village of Duck. Massages await at The Sanderling Spa. We can even arrange charter fishing. Guests can also use the workout facilities and indoor tennis courts at the Pine Island Racquet Club. And, not to forget, The Sanderling is on one of the most pristine beaches in the country—perfect for mulling over next year's business strategies.
